CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The Taiwan Occupational Therapy Association will host an international conference from Nov. 2nd 2019 to Nov. 3rd 2019. We invite all researchers and clinical practitioners to submit abstracts for presentations during the conference.

Presentation types

All abstracts of research findings, case studies, unique practice experiences, professional innovation and issue related to Occupational Therapy and Rehabilitation Sciences are welcomed. The presentation can be in the format of oral or poster presentation. Please indicate your preference of presentation type while submitting the abstract; the Scientific Programme Committee will consider your preference. However, the Committee reserves the right to assign oral presentation or poster presentation to the accepted abstract, depending on its content, time arrangement, and the balance of the abstract categories.

Oral presentation

- Either in Mandarin or English
- Ten minutes of presentation followed by 5 minutes of discussion (including question and answer session).
- The speaker for the presentation should be from any of the authors listed on the abstract submission.

Poster presentation

- Either in Traditional Chinese or English
- Authors being accepted will be notified the details of the poster formats.
- The presenter should be from any of the authors listed on the abstract submission

Topic Categories

The report contents you submit can be categorized in one of the major areas related to Occupational Therapy as the following:

- Child and Adolescents
- Physical Dysfunction
- Mental Health
- Geriatric Care
- Community Services
- Education in Occupational Therapy
- Application of Innovative Technology
- Administration, Policy and Marketing

- Occupation: Theory and Practice
- Others

Abstract submission guidelines

General instructions

- Abstracts should be submitted on-line ONLY, please submit your abstracts via the conference website.
- The presenter can present in Mandarin or English. Please indicate your preferred language while submitting the abstract.
- The confirmation e-mail of your submission will be sent to the corresponding author in one week after the submission. If you do not receive the confirmation e-mail, please submit again or contact otaroc@ms13.hinet.net

Submission contents

- The submitted contents should not have been published in any public presentation before.
- Applicants should indicate the language for presentation. For Mandarin presentations, abstracts can be submitted in either traditional Chinese or English; for English presentations, abstracts should only be submitted in English.
